Interpretation of City Ordinance by State Inspector Here Yesterday Changes Aspect

BLANKET FORM IN USE HERE

Inspector Advises First 50 Kilowatts Should be 10 Cents Regardless of Amount Used

A new interpretation of the city ordinance regulating the charges for electricity by Inspector Ramsey of the Public Service Commission, who was in the city yesterday, will mean an increased rate for all consumers, both for power consumers and domestic users.

Inspector Ramsey advised the city officials to use the new interpretation to avoid the penalty for discrimination. In the past the city has been charging ten cents a kilowatt from one to 50 kilowatts, from fifty-one to 100, nine cents and so on down until the rate is six cents for all over 200 kilowatts.

The new interpretation is that the city should charge the usual ten cents for the first fifty kilowatts, then nine cents for 51 to 100 kilowatts, but the rates are to be figured separately. In the past the city has been applying the rates in blanket form.

For instance if a consumer used 60 kilowatts a month, the city gave him the nine cent rate for the entire amount of electricity consumed. The Public Service Commission says this is not correct. They would charge the consumer the ten cent rate for the first fifty and the nine cent rate for the next fifty kilowatts. The city's charge in the past for a 60 kilowatt bill has been $4.50, the entire amount being based on the nine cent charge. Under the new interpretation of a sixty kilowatt bill the first fifty would be charged at a rate of ten cents and the other ten kilowatts at the nine cent charge, making the total bill $5.90.

This is the same system used for reading the water meters. The water bills are computed on the different rates and the inspector for the commission advised that the city immediately start collecting the electric bills in this manner. He declared the present method was discriminatory. The city has been charging on the theory that the more a man used the less he was entitled to pay, which is all right, but the rates must be computed between the various stages and not a blanket rate from the beginning.

At least four city treasurers have been collecting the light and power bills in the same manner now employed and no one ever questioned it. The question arose as to whether the city treasurer would be compelled to go back all those years and collect the money that the public service commission says is due the city. This would prove a huge task and would certainly cause a long and loud howl to go up. The commission inspector promised to take the matter up and a ruling on this point is expected in a few days.

To avoid any trouble with the commission the light and power rates for this month will be computed in the new manner prescribed. Every consumer of electricity in the city who consumes over 50 kilowatts a month will be hit by this, which practically means an increase in rate. Instead of computing the bills on one rate the various rates for each fifty kilowatts for domestic consumers and for each 500 kilowatts for power users will be used.

The users of electricity for power will be specially hard hit. The rate for this class of service is five cents for the first 500 kilowatts and on a scale down to two cents for all over 1,500 kilowatts. The city has been charging four cents for all over 500.

TWO MORE YOUNG MEN CALLED TO THE COLORS

Byron Cowing and Scott Buell Are Ordered to Report at Ft. Harrison For Officers Training

MAKES SIX GOING FROM HERE

Two more Rushville young men have received orders to join the colors, in addition to the four ordered yesterday to report at Fort Benjamin Harrison for the officers training camp which will open next Tuesday morning. The two who have just been called are Byron Cowing, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Cowing, and Scott Buell, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Buell.

There are four other young men from here who passed the examination but who have not yet been ordered to report. They are expecting a call at any moment because not enough men have been ordered to report to fill the camp. It is believed that all four of them will get in the camp.

Byron Cowing and James Shanahan, one of the four called yesterday, went to Fort Harrison today. Scott Buell does not expect to go until the first of next week. Perry Oneal, Harry Petry and Walter Gartin answered the call yesterday. It was reported here today that the boys from Indiana had been assigned to the barracks at the fort, which will give them excellent quarters for the three months training.

CLEARING HOUSE FOR FARM LABOR

Postoffice to Co-Operate to Put Farmers in Touch With Men Who Want to Work

EMPLOYMENT SERVICE PLAN

Chicago Office Informs Postmaster Much Inexperienced Farm Labor is Available

At the suggestion of the Chicago branch of the United States employment service the Rushville postoffice will become a sort of a clearing house for farmers in Rush county seeking farm laborers and men seeking farm employment.

In a letter received from the inspector-in-charge of the Chicago branch of this bureau by Postmaster Hunt the inspector announces that his office is very much interested in securing competent farm help for work on farms in the district comprising his jurisdiction which includes the state of Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin.

Up to this time, the postmaster is advised, the Chicago office has received more applications from farmers for experienced farm help than it has been able to supply.

However, the inspector-in-charge announces that he is daily receiving applications from well-appearing boys and young men, most of them from sixteen to twenty-one years of age, from high schools and coming from very good families, who are anxious to go on farms in Indiana and Illinois for the coming season.

These young men are willing to work for reasonable wages, and it is believed that their energy and willingness will in a measure compensate their lack of experience. Some of these young men have had limited experience on the farm, but most of them have had none whatever. They are not, the inspector says, of the floating class, but are young men and boys of good address who, the inspector feels, would in the main be acceptable to employers.

Experienced farm help, as Rush county farmers are well advised, is

WOMEN NEED NOT BE EMBARRASSED

They Can Tell Their Age When Registering Because Woman Will be Clerk of the Board

FRANCES FRAZEE APPOINTED

Republican and Democratic County Chairmen Recommend—Period Begins June 22

The women voters of Rush county need not feel embarrassed in giving their ages when they go to the court house between June 22 and August 20 to register in order to get a vote at the special election to name delegates to the constitutional convention, because there will be a woman member of the registration board. That member will be Miss Frances Frazee, who will be chief clerk of the board.

The appointments to the registration were made today by Clerk George B. Moore, Jr., who acted upon the recommendations submitted by the two county chairmen. Fon Riggs, republican county chairman, named Verne W. Norris as the republican member of the board and Vorhees Cavitt, democratic county chairman, named Donald L. Smith as the democratic member. These two appointees with Clerk Moore, by reason of his office, will compose the board.

Mr. Riggs then named Miss Frazee, as chief clerk, and Will Newbold was named as deputy clerk by Mr. Cavitt. The two clerks will have most of the work to perform. The board will be in session from June 22 for a period of sixty days. Application has already been made to the county commissioners for a room in the court house for the registration board as is provided by law and the commissioners will likely assign the board its own room.

The registration is to be general. In other words every voter, both men and women, who desire to vote at the special election for constitutional convention delegates must register during the sixty-day period. This registration is only for the special election; but will also hold good for the city election in November.

As this is the first election in which the women will vote it is believed practically all will participate and this means plenty of work for the registration board as all of the names will have to be recorded. It has been estimated that with the women voting the total vote in the county will run over 10,000.

Officials stated today that there was every reason to believe that the women voters would more readily tell their ages to one of their own sex and therefore saw a great benefit in having Miss Frazee on the board.

DIXON UP TO OLD TRICKS

Rushville Man Engages in Fight at Connersville—Fined $5.

John Dixon of Jersey City, was fined $5 and costs in the Connersville police court today as the result of a fight there yesterday afternoon. With three Connersville men Dixon became involved in a free-for-all fight in the streets of that city. Dixon, who is handy with throwing bricks, having recently heaved one through a window at the Grand hotel, practiced his old trick yesterday. For a time the bricks flew thick and fast. One of the bricks went wild and hit Paul Offutt, a former resident of this city, who is a driver for the fire department there, on the knee, inflicting a painful injury.

Princeton—Sixteen hundred school children today participated in a parade and patriotic school celebration.

SPRING DRIVE ON DIRT OPENS MAY 14

"Commander-in-Chief" and "Fighting Forces" Aim to Rout Enemy out of "Trenches"

SAME RULES TO BE FOLLOWED

Street Cleaning Department Will Not Haul Ashes or Old Limbs Dumped Into Alley

The annual spring "drive" on trash and rubbish will be opened in Rushville next Monday because the city council has designated the week of May 14 to 19 as "clean-up" week.

Will Havens, street commissioner, is commander-in-chief of the "fighting forces" and aims to have the enemy, "dirt," routed out of the trenches and completely annihilated by the end of next week. The attack on the first line of defense will take place Monday. The commander-in-chief will be ably supported by the street cleaning department.

The city will observe the usual custom of hauling away debris that collects in the alleys during the winter. No ashes or old limbs that city residents dump in the alley will be hauled free of charge.

The street force will be used for the transportation department and the "enemy" will be hauled away as rapidly as the advance is made by the attacking forces. Women's clubs and other organizations have taken an active part in the clean-up campaign in the past and it is expected that the council will receive the same degree of co-operation from such organizations this spring. The battle formation will be complete, even to the organization of the ambulance corps which will be expected to beautify unsightly corners and vacant spots with flower beds and lawns.

Experience has proved that the best results are not obtained from clean-up and paint-up week until after the house cleaning season is over and for that reason the official week was fixed in May for by that time the weather will permit residents to give more attention to their lawns. During the house cleaning season much rubbish and many worthless articles are collected and the residents take advantage of the offer of the city to have such rubbish removed free of charge.

Because of the many gardens that have been planted this spring it is believed that more interest than ever will be shown in the clean-up and paint-up campaign. Residents got an early start in removing the trash from their back lots when they spaded up the ground for their gardens and will be glad to co-operate in completing the task now. The street department will haul away all trash and rubbish without charge as an inducement to the citizens to adopt the week of May 14-19 as the time for getting their premises in first class condition for the summer.

WHITTON SENT TO "FARM"

Gets Sixty Days in Police Court For Resisting Officer.

Harvey (Kid) Whitton will not likely fight with an officer of the law in Rushville again for some time. It is a sure thing he will not for a period of over 60 days, because he was sent to the penal farm this morning by Mayor Bebout. Whitton was fined $1 and costs on a charge of public intoxication and then was fined $5 and costs and given 60 days on the farm for assault and battery. He resisted Policeman Seward and both charges were filed against him. He will likely be taken to the penal farm tomorrow by Sheriff Cavitt.

William H. Tumbrick has filed suit on a note against John M. Carr and Owen L. Carr, demanding $900.

DARDANELLES FOR BELGIUM IS THE PLAN

This is Said to be Entente's War Aims as Respects Turkey—Reasons For It

WAY TO AVOID ALL JEALOUSY

By W. S. FORREST
(Written for United Press.)

Paris, May 11.—Belgium's flag to fly from Constantinople and Belgium's control of the Dardanelles is the allies revised plan for its war aims as respects Turkey.

On high authority today it can be stated that this change in program has been thoroughly discussed by the allied governments.

Since new Russia denounced claim to the Straits, the subject has held a keen interest for the allies.

No one of the entente powers will think of the war's conclusion with the Turk still in Europe.

To grant control of the world's greatest waterway to any of the world's great nations might cause jealousy and endanger the future of world peace for which the allies are fighting. It is likely as a result to be given to Belgium.

T. R. DIVISION ISSUE NOT DEAD

Evidence Crops Out in Congress That Those Favoring it Will Put up a Fight

HOUSE DEBATES REVENUE

Senate Finance Committee Begins Hearing on Measure—Object to Corporation Tax

By ROBERT J. BENDER
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, May 11.—That the Roosevelt division issue is still very much alive was evidenced today not only in the senate but in the house as well.

Representative Murray Hulbert, New York democrat, introduced a bill authorizing Roosevelt to raise a volunteer division. Hulbert voted against the Roosevelt division amendment to the selective service army bill on the ground that it might interfere in that measure.

Another evidence of the fight that is still to be made on the Roosevelt issue was when Gardner of Massachusetts and Austin of Tenn., objected to a suggestion of Chairman Dent of the house military committee that the debate of the Roosevelt idea be limited to two hours.

Owing to the pressure on congress for action on the army bill it is practically certain that the fight for the colonel will not endure long. The report of the conference committee, it is believed, will be agreed upon early next week.

While the house continued debate on the administration's $1,800,000,000 revenue bill the senate finance committee today begin its hearing on the measure. Testimony from those affected by the income, excess profits, beverages and tobacco taxes was heard.

Paul D. Cravath, Bethlehem Steel company and K. A. Kratz, Lackawanna Steel company, speaking on the income tax, objected to a tax on corporation stock dividends. They said none of their stockholders objected to a tax on incomes but pointed out that corporation stock dividends don't amount to actual dividends because they take nothing from the corporation and add nothing to the income of the stockholders.

THIRTY-THREE TO RECEIVE DIPLOMAS

List of Graduates of the High School This Year is Announced by School Authorities

COMMENCEMENT ON MAY 25

Junior-Senior Reception Will be May 18 and Class Play Week Following School's Close

Thirty-three will be graduated from the Rushville high school this year, according to the senior class roll which has just been made up. As has been previously announced by the school authorities, A. E. Wigam, a noted chautauqua orator, will deliver the commencement address and the exercises will be held at the Graham Annex Friday night, May 25.

The first event of the commencement week festivities will be the Junior-Senior reception which will take place at the Graham Annex gymnasium Friday evening, May 18 at 8:15 o'clock. The gymnasium will be fitted up as a first class "battlefield" and it is calculated that every boy and every girl will be ready to go to war as soldiers and Red Cross nurses by the time they emerge from their trip across the "ocean" and over a battlefield in France. Very unique invitations have been issued for the affair.

The Senior class play this year will be "The Witching Hour." It will be given at the Graham Annex auditorium the week following commencement on a date not definitely determined. It will probably be Tuesday evening, May 29, or Thursday evening, May 31. Rehearsals have already been started and Tarkington Baker of Indianapolis, who is a dramatic critic and playwright and has had some experience at producing, has been obtained to coach the players.

The officers of the Senior class are: Miss Harriet DeArmond Smith, president; Clifford William Mauzy, vice-president; Miss Agnes Valeta Walton, secretary-treasurer. Among the list of graduates is Thomas Bernard Saunders, the high school boy who joined the United States Marine Corps and is now stationed at Port Royal, S. C. He was assured his diploma without finishing the school year because of his patriotic act in joining the service. The list of those to be graduated follows:

Esther Anderson, Mary Louise Bliss, Helen Marie Clark, John McGee Fleehart, Elsie Marie Frazee, Helen Kathryn Frazee, Lucille Elizabeth Geraghty, Alfred Norris Gilbert, Viola May Gray, Hermoine Josephine Hughes, Goldie May Jackson, Clifford William Mauzy, Floy Marie Meyer, Charline Esther Mc-

extremely scarce this year, but the United States employment service announces that it is prepared to furnish inexperienced help in almost unlimited numbers.

Postmaster Hunt has indicated to the inspector-in-charge of the Chicago office that he is quite willing to give all aid possible in placing this help.

The Chicago office asks that the postmaster put in a requisition for blank forms if he can co-operate with the employment agency, but Postmaster Hunt found this was needless because he already has a supply of blank forms similar to those now being sent out. He was provided with these blanks about a year ago when the government employment agencies were working through the postmasters to get farm workers.

The postmaster will be glad to submit correspondence with the Chicago office, in which the proposition is discussed in a more detailed manner, to any interested person who will call at the postoffice.

Robert Bowman Wants Damages From the I. & C. Because His Jaw Was Broken in Accident

COMES ON CHANGE OF VENUE

The damage suit of Robert Bowman of Indianapolis against the Indianapolis Traction and Terminal company, demanding $5,000 for personal injuries, reached the local circuit court this morning on a change of venue from Hancock county.

A wagon on which Bowman was riding was struck by a street car in Indianapolis. Among other injuries Bowman alleged that his jaw was so badly hurt that he is now unable to chew tobacco, thus being deprived of a pleasure.

The suit was originally filed in Marion Superior court, room 5, and the defendant took the change of venue to Hancock county. The present change was made on motion of the plaintiff.

WAR MISSIONS WILL JOIN IN A RECEPTION

Both Will Return Home Soon With Cash in Hand and Promises of Food and Munitions

ALSO FIGHTING MEN SOON

New York, N. Y., May 11.—Having practically completed their task of showing America how it can help the European allies win the world war, the French and British war missions will join here tonight in a farewell reception.

The commissioners are going home. The day of their departure is not far distant.

Both commissions are highly pleased with the result of the world war council. Both groups return home with American cash in hand, with the promise of food, munitions and shipping at once—and fighting men soon.

The commissioners are believed practically to have completed a system of anti-submarine warfare which will wipe out the submarine menace.

Amusements

The Gem will show the fourth episode of the "Mystery of the Double Cross" tonight featuring Mollie King and Leon Bary. In this episode Bentley's attempt to kidnap Philippa Brewster is frustrated by the mysterious character known as the masked stranger. One of the features of this episode is a daring stunt in which the stranger lowering himself on a knotted rope tied to the chimney on the roof of a high building swings across the areaway into the window of a room on the other side of the street. Pathe News will also be shown followed by "Skemer Skinny's Skeme" a comedy, and the drama "Shadows of Shame."

The picture at the Princess tonight is "Out of the Drifts." "Out of the Drifts" is a big story of the great Alps and of the everlasting snows in which Miss Marguerite Clark is seen battling not only for life against the elements but to save herself from a young rogue with whom a great avalanche has penned her in a deserted cabin. Tomorrow Douglas Fairbanks will be seen in the picture "Flirting With Fate."

The Lyric offers the five act feature "The Courtesan" for the program tonight. It is said to be a great political drama and there are many thrilling and realistic scenes. Tomorrow the gripping two act drama "The Gambler's Lost Love" will be shown in addition to the usual program.

Supt. J. H. Scholl this morning ran through the first reel of "The Passion Play," which will be shown at the Graham Annex tonight, to make sure it was all right. He found it very satisfactory. The film is colored and depicts in a beautiful way the life of Christ.

Amusements

The Gem will show the fourth episode of the "Mystery of the Double Cross" tonight featuring Mollie King and Leon Bary. In this episode Bentley's attempt to kidnap Philippa Brewster is frustrated by the mysterious character known as the masked stranger. One of the features of this episode is a daring stunt in which the stranger lowering himself on a knotted rope tied to the chimney on the roof of a high building swings across the areaway into the window of a room on the other side of the street. Pathe News will also be shown followed by "Skemer Skinny's Skeme" a comedy, and the drama "Shadows of Shame."

The picture at the Princess tonight is "Out of the Drifts." "Out of the Drifts" is a big story of the great Alps and of the everlasting snows in which Miss Marguerite Clark is seen battling not only for life against the elements but to save herself from a young rogue with whom a great avalanche has penned her in a deserted cabin. Tomorrow Douglas Fairbanks will be seen in the picture "Flirting With Fate."

The Lyric offers the five act feature "The Courtesan" for the program tonight. It is said to be a great political drama and there are many thrilling and realistic scenes. Tomorrow the gripping two act drama "The Gambler's Lost Love" will be shown in addition to the usual program.

Supt. J. H. Scholl this morning ran through the first reel of "The Passion Play," which will be shown at the Graham Annex tonight, to make sure it was all right. He found it very satisfactory. The film is colored and depicts in a beautiful way the life of Christ.

COMMISSION TO GO TO RUSSIA SELECTED

Personnel is Determined by President and May be Announced Late This Afternoon.

ELIHU ROOT IS AT ITS HEAD

Washington, May 11.—The president has completed the personnel of the commission which will go to Russia from this government to assist the provincial government.

The personnel will probably be announced late today as follows: Elihu Root, Cyrus McCormick, C. R. Berton, New York Banker, Charles E. Russell, socialist leader, James Duncan, vice-president of the American Federation of labor, Dr. John Mott and Charles R. Crane of Chicago.

Major General Hugh L. Scott, chief of staff of the United States army and Rear Admiral James Blanton will be the military and naval members of the commission, it was announced.

Wire Brevities

Indianapolis, Ind., May 11—Judge Samuel M. Hench of Fort Wayne was today elected commander of the Indiana G. A. R. over Alonzo Murphy of Greensburg on the third ballot.

Valparaiso, Ind., May 11.—Circuit Judge Loring today overruled the Indiana Public Service Commission and decided that Indiana railroads must pay the expenses of new crossings where a new right-of-way is established.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 11.—About 280,000 men in Indiana will come under the age provisions of the conscription bill as agreed upon by conference in congress, according to estimates made by military authorities today. Of this number 120,000 are unmarried. Military officials stated that marriage alone will not exempt a man and it will probably be necessary to prove existence of dependents.

Copenhagen, May 11—German newspapers are beginning to push the so-called socialist conference at Stockholm in June. This propaganda is regarded as characteristic of Germany, and is considered for the influence of Russia alone.

"THE BALANCED MEAL"

The paper on the subject, "The Balanced Meal and School Lunches," read by Miss Kate Dennis at the close of "Child Welfare Week," will be found on pages nine and ten of today's issue.

WATCH YOUR STOMACH

IF FOOD SOURS, BOWELS CLOG, STOMACH HURTS, HEAD ACHE, BREATH BAD, HEART PALPITATES, TAKE PEPSINCO. YOU NEED IT. IT WILL HELP YOU.

Thousands upon thousands of persons are taking Pepsinco and are having perfect health. Many of them suffered with indigestion, sick headache, sour stomach, dyspepsia, palpitation and other stomach disorders. They are all well today. They took Pepsinco because it helped others; because it is highly recommended.

So many ordinary ills are closely allied to stomach faults that it is safe to apply the definition of indigestion to practically every internal complaint. If you have trouble with your food—if gas follows eating, if belching distresses you, if flatulency produces heart palpitation or heartburn—then Pepsinco is the preparation for you to take, for it offers the relief decidedly the quickest and best.

You try it out. Take a dose of Pepsinco. You'll find we are right. You'll feel better after the first dose. It's prompt action will bring you around to normal health quickly and safely.

Pepsinco will tone up the stomach nerves; it will brace you up and make you feel like a new person. It will permit you to eat and enjoy what you eat. No distress follows a meal if you take Pepsinco. Ask your druggist today for a small package of Pepsinco and your stomach worries will be over. It is inexpensive. It is a friend worth while. Don't delay. Get it now—today—and prevent a chronic condition that is bound to follow neglect of the stomach. We will send a sample if you will mail your name and address. "Let me suggest that everyone who creates or cultivates a garden helps, and helps greatly to solve the problem of the feeding of the nations."—President Wilson.

Patriotism Begins at Home

In emergencies, it may be necessary for some patriots to unyoke the oxen and leave the plow standing in the furrow, but the lasting support of a nation requires efficient patriots to keep the plows going. This is the opinion of C. P. Hartley, in charge of the corn investigations of the United States department of agriculture, expressed in one of a series of articles regarding corn.

The soil supports the corn; corn supports animals; corn and animals support an army; and "armies fight on their bellies." Let us all properly care for the goose that lays the golden egg. It all resolves itself into the question of whether the United States can produce larger crops this year in order to feed both the United States and Europe. The responsibility then rests largely with the farmer.

Whether corn prices are high or low, the farmer's profit depends on obtaining large acre yields. Large acre yields reduce the expense of both labor and land. It is remarkable that acre yields are increasing most rapidly in the states southeast and the states north and west of the corn belt states. These increased acre yields are largely due to earlier and thicker planting of better seed corn. Unnecessary losses from planting poor seed corn are diminishing as it becomes more fully realized that neither frosts nor droughts can exterminate good acclimated varieties if sufficient seed be saved from good crops to last until another good crop is obtained. Good seed corn will retain its powers of germination and production for four or five years.

In the central and southern states, the scarcity of soil moisture in the middle of the summer reduces the corn crop more than all other causes combined. The best assurance of a good corn crop is to get moisture into the soil in as large quantities and to as great depths as possible, the corn experts point out.

To allow weeds, alfalfa, rye or other plants to grow during the spring upon land to be planted to

CONQUERS RHEUMATISM IN A VERY FEW DAYS

It is an established fact that one-half teaspoonful of Rheuma taken once a day has driven the pain and agony from thousands of racked, crippled and despairing rheumatics during the last five years.

Powerful and sure; quick acting, yet harmless; Rheuma gives blessed relief almost at once. The magic name has reached every hamlet in the land and there is hardly a druggist anywhere who can not tell you of almost marvelous cures.

Genuine Rheuma, with guarantee of a cure or money returned, is sold by corn is to invite failure of the corn crop.

To allow the soil to become dry enough in the spring before plowing to break up in big clods is to invite failure of the corn crop. If the plowing has been delayed until spring, the land should be disked before it has a chance to become too dry. Deep plowing should not be done in the spring. If followed by drought, it causes the land to dry out to greater depths than would result from shallow plowing.

Now Rich Man's Food

Rice and salmon, always considered the poor man's food, have joined the high price squad, according to a United Press dispatch from Chicago. When tenderloin and potatoes and other things jumped clear out of sight, the food experts told the man with the lean pocketbook to feed his family on rice and salmon. Rice has almost doubled in price and salmon did a similar stunt. These are about the last of the staple products which have been reasonable in price up to this time.

The sooner congress gets to the question of food control, the better will be the country because food speculators will have to give way before remedial legislation.

We are at war. We want officers. We want men. We want guns. We want ammunition. We want equipment. We want ships. We want food. We want everything and have darned little of anything.

The billions of money the United States are lending the allies will be spent in this country for food and war supplies. That means work for everybody left at home and good money for your work. Well!

"Following the flag" with some young bloods is confined to attaching it to the front ends of their automobiles.

"Wasting food is a sin," says our neighbor. You bet—we're all growing wings.

LAST APPEAL MADE TO BOYS AND GIRLS

Christie Urges Them to Plant Gardens and Aid in Increased Food Movement

NO SLACKERS ARE WANTED

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, May 11.—A last appeal for boys and girls to get behind the increased food movement in Indiana was issued today by G. I. Christie, state food director. He warned that it will soon be too late to plant gardens and children who wish to aid their country by planting gardens should be getting busy.

"Every boy and girl should be engaged in some productive work this year," said Christie. "They should raise corn, potatoes, tomatoes, poultry, a pig or calf, preserve fruits and vegetables or in some other way contribute to production or conservation of food.

There should be no slackers. School officials are required to see that every boy and girl under their supervision takes up and completes some productive work this season."

11 a. m. sermon by H. L. Freeman, D. D., corresponding secretary of the Methodist Protestant church, Celina, Ohio.

Noon—Basket dinner at the church.

2 p. m.—Platform meeting at which a sketch of the early history of the New Salem church will be read and reminiscent talks will be made by the older members, friends and former pastors of the church.

7:30 p. m.—sermon by the Rev. Mr. Freeman.

The Rev. M. F. Iliff is pastor of the church. A cordial welcome is extended to all to attend.

TODAY'S HOOSIER ODDITY

Indianapolis, May 11—"Idle one day No flag."—read a report received by Michael Scollard, state mine inspector, from the Miama coal company in Vigo county. The inspector investigated the unusual report and found that the boss of the mine had been ordered to hoist a flag over the works. He neglected his instructions and next morning, when mine workers, mostly foreigners, failed to see the Stars and Stripes flying over the mine, they refused to work. The mine was closed one day while the flag was procured.

ELKHART MAN SEES VICTORY

"Toned Up My System And Feel Younger?" Says Mann

Elkhart, Ind., May 10.—George H. Mann, 78, a retired blacksmith of 316 Curtis Block, has been a resident of Elkhart for many years and is known to practically everyone in this city as a man of unquestioned integrity and one, who under no circumstances would make a false or exaggerated statement. Here is what he had to say on February 15, about Tanlac, the celebrated new medicine.

"I was so nervous," Mr. Mann said in explaining his case, "that I couldn't lift anything to my lip without spilling a part of it. My stomach was out of order and my blood was in bad condition. I had little appetite and the little food I did eat caused gas to form in my stomach. I was bothered with boils. It really seemed that my entire system was out of order."

"I read in the newspapers a statement of one of my neighbors in which he so highly praised the medicine and I decided to try Tanlac. I really feel almost forty years younger. The nervousness is a thing of the past. Boils don't come anymore. I have a hearty appetite and food seems to agree with me perfectly. Tanlac certainly has proven a great boon to me and I intend to continue using the medicine."

Tanlac, the Master Medicine, is especially beneficial for nervousness, loss of appetite, stomach, liver or kidney trouble, catarrhal complaints and the like.

Tanlac is now being introduced and explained in Rushville at F. E. Wolcott's drug store; in Arlington at Mrs. L. T. Davis's; in Carthage at J. H. McCarthy & Sons; and in Milroy at Barton and Sheppards.—(Adv.)

Town Improvement

Concerning Success. (Contributed)

We are all familiar with the trite quotation "Nothing succeeds like success." It meets us on all sides. It is the ne plus ultra of argument as to efficiency, and is a literal illustration of the truth of the Master's assertion that "unto him that hath shall be given"—except it doesn't always exactly fulfill the Master's conception of the thought.

Nowadays, when the sovereign voters of a municipality are faced with the need of choosing a corps of officials to safeguard the public interests, the voters immediately begin to question the fitness of each man proposed. The ability of the candidate, which in most instances is his chief recommendation (and, in the right sense, should be) is discussed freely, and the whole industrial and business life of the man is laid bare to the public gaze. But the clinching argument is that he has succeeded. His own affairs have been prosecuted with energy and vigor, and with intelligence and sound judgment. As a result, he is what the whole world pronounces a successful man.

Now we argue that if this man has been so successful with his own affairs, it necessarily follows that he will be equally so with the affairs of the people. So we rally and place him in power—and in too many instances awake to the fact that we have dropped our candy.

It is true that "nothing succeeds like success," but not in the sense in which we mostly accept it. Nothing so well succeeds in blinding us to the real defects of human character as a little success in a particular line. Who has not seen the disastrous failure of many men who have been successful in the lines with which they were familiar, when they have undertaken work for which they had neither aptitude, knowledge or training?

It is discouraging indeed to the citizens possessed of real civic pride to see the destinies of his community committed to men who have nothing better to recommend them than the fact that they have accumulated money and property. This success, instead of being a recommendation, is too often a fatal barrier to their usefulness, in that it shows self-interest to be their ruling passion.

Many of earth's greatest benefactors have been men who never accumulated much wealth. In many instances the reverse is true—they have spent and been spent in the service of humanity.

We are most forcibly reminded of the truth of this assertion on reading of the death of Count Zeppelin in Germany recently. Born of a noble family, heir to princely estates, he early in life was imbued with an idea to further the progress of the human race by developing air navigation. His time, his energy and the bulk of his vast fortune went into the experiments—until at his death he was what one might term a "successful failure." He had entirely lost sight of his own interests, but he had conferred on humanity a boon which, in the arts of peace, time alone can estimate, for the day will come when rapid transit in the air will be as common as the railroads of today.

In our municipal affairs let us lose the idea that one who is successful with his own affairs will be the same with the affairs of the people. We have seen a man who accumulated a fortune at stock raising, but who, when entrusted by his people with building a system of pike roads, sunk a large bond issue in mud. He had raised steers and knew how. He had never built roads, and failed when he attempted to.

Success is relative. The man who can construct a perfect street is pronounced a success, though he hasn't a dollar to his name.

And the greatest success of all is that of the man who can aid in the success of the largest number of his fellowmen.

Let us cease conferring office upon men merely as a tribute to their success. Find the man with the ability to perform the duties required, and then entrust them to him. Success will be the result.

RUSSIAN MUNITION WORKERS IN REVOLT

Laborers of Schelsberg District Near Petrograd Say They Will Organize Separate Republic

ATTEMPTS TO DISSUADE THEM

By WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD (U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Petrograd, May 11.—The Schelsberg munition district revolted today. Workmen and citizens of the district announced their intentions of organizing a separate republic. The district is located in a suburb of Petrograd.

Representatives of the workmen's and soldier committee left here at once to dissuade the revolt from their purpose.

The provisional president of the munition district was arrested by the rebels. Apparently there was no violence in the revolt.

Another instance of friction was evident today when it was announced that the workmen and soldiers

MEANS LIGHT AND POWER WILL COST MORE MONEY

Under the new ruling the first five hundred would be computed at five cents and then the second five hundred would be computed at four cents and so on down the scale, each rate being computed separately.

One large manufacturing plant using the city "juice" will be hit $30 more on the month under this interpretation, it was estimated today.

The inspector for the commission advised that the council lower the maximum rate in order to bring the rates somewhere near those now charged. He also advised that the ordinance be changed so as to provide a minimum charge. A maximum of seven or eight cents for domestic users was suggested. The attention of the council will likely be called to the matter at the meeting Tuesday night.

diers are planning a world meeting of socialists in some neutral country to discuss world problems. Those behind the plan insist that the meeting was to be independent of that planned for Stockholm.

LEARN HOW TO FLY

Indianapolis, May 11.—Instructions in aeronautics were started here today under direction of the extension division of the University of Indiana in preparation for men to enlist in the flying corps of the U. S. army. The course will be preliminary to actual flying. Instructions are under direction of Prof. Tobias Dantzig, of the department of mathematics in the University.

Uric Acid!

Ever since the discovery of Schaefer in 1775 that uric acid was found within the body—most eminent physicians agree that rheumatism is caused by it; also many distressing symptoms as head-ache, pain in back, stomach distress swollen feet and ankles, gout, etc.

It was Dr. Pierce of the Invalids' Hotel Buffalo, N. Y., who discovered a new agent—called Anuric, a harmless remedy that if taken before meals will carry off the uric acid from the system and in this way the pains and aches, the creak joints and all the distressing symptoms of rheumatism and other maladies disappear. You can easily prove this yourself, by obtaining Anuric (double strength) at almost any drug store, or send Dr. Pierce 10c. for trial package. Try it and be convinced that Anuric is many times more active than lithia and eliminates uric acid as hot water melts sugar.

WORN-OUT, OVER-WORKED WOMEN, HERE IS ADVICE FOR YOU

Hammond, Ind.—"Some time ago I read the 'Medical Adviser' by Dr. Pierce. I was poorly—had trouble from which women suffer and was worn out from over work. I took three bottles of Golden Medical Discovery and three of 'Favorite Prescription.' I found that they not only made me feel better but cured all my trouble so that it never returned. My husband said these were the best medicine he ever found for me. I have consulted the 'Medical Adviser' often and found it laid me along the right lines to get such help as I needed in my work of nursing. I have recommended the 'Discovery' and 'Prescription' to my friends and they have successfully used them."—Mrs. M. J. Nicholson, 679 Oakley Ave.

Visiting Nurse Shown Not to be an Aid to This Business at Tuberculosis Convention

ONE INSTANCE RECITED Society Urges County Sanatorium as The Unit in Every Phase of The Work

(By United Press.) Cincinnati, May 11.—The visiting nurse as a menace to undertakers' business was discussed before the national convention of the Society for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis here today.

Miss Fanny F. Clements of Washington, D. C., superintendent of the Town and County Nursing Service, told of a mining town in a western state where for eighteen months a visiting nurse worked with great success. Then, suddenly, the girl found her financial support had been withdrawn by vote of the town board.

Of the three board members who cast the majority vote, one was an undertaker who frankly said he opposed the nurse because since her arrival there had been a great falling off of infant funerals. Another owned an unsanitary barn next to the school house. It had been torn down on complaint of the nurse. The third owned property not connected for sewerage as the law required.

The county sanatorium as the unit and leader in every phase of anti-tuberculosis work was urged by George J. Nelbach, assistant secretary of the State Charities Aid association of New York. A wide awake sanatorium, employing a visiting nurse, he said, will ferret out the suspected or concealed cases. Its superintendent will hold clinics, and a system of after-care for discharged patients will be inaugurated.

"ULTEX" One-piece Invisible Bifocal Lens

The last word in bifocals—the ultimate lens

The "ULTEX" bifocal is free from all chromatic aberration or the disagreeable color or rainbow effects so noticeable in other styles. It has a large and clear view reading part, which insures comfort to the wearer. We recommend the "ULTEX" bifocals to our customers, and will be pleased to further explain its advantages.

The Ladies Musicales will give a program appropriate to Mothers' day at the regular meeting Monday afternoon in the court house assembly room. Every member is entitled to bring one guest, the guest to be a mother. Miss Alice Norris is the leader for this program. The program follows:

Piano duet—"Bonnie Sweet Daisie, the Maid of Dundee"—Mrs. D. H. Dean and Miss Alice Norris.

Vocal solo, "Mother O' Mine"—Mrs. Charles Offutt.

Reading—Miss Leah Flint.

Vocal solo, "A Song to Mother"—Miss Mable Morris.

Chorus—"Songs Our Mothers Sing"—Ladies Musicales with solo parts by Miss Edith Buell and Mrs. Esther McCloud.

Piano duet, "Fisher's Horn Pipe Medley"—Mrs. A. L. Aldridge and Mrs. Edward Chambers.

Vocal duet—"Oh, That We Two Were Maying"—Mrs. Will Amos and Miss Edith Buell.

Monologue—Miss Norma Smith.

Piano quartette—Mrs. Parke, Mrs. Aldridge, Mrs. Dean and Miss Alice Norris.

Boy's Chorus of the high school—John Norris, Carl Hawkins, Hubert Alexander and Harold Walcott.

The student members of the musicale will assist in the program are Miss Laverne Davis, Miss Mae Taylor and Miss Frances Lyons.

Fifteen members of the Woman's Home Missionary society of the M. E. church met with Mrs. Frank Sparks, yesterday afternoon at her home in North Main street. Mrs. C. H. Parsons was leader and gave an inspiring talk on "Our New Possessions." She also talked on Cuba and Port Rico. Mrs. W. M. Whisitt talked on the Methodist Orphans home at Greencastle. The home has been organized three years, and orphan children are sent there to be cared for until a Christian home is found for them. At present there are thirty-three in the home. A short business meeting was held and a market given by the third division of the society.

Eight members of the Thursday afternoon Bridge club and one guest Miss Belma Clark, met with Mrs. Ben Humes yesterday afternoon at her home south of the city. A dainty salad course was served by the hostess at the conclusion of the joyful afternoon.

The ladies of the Plum Creek, C. W. B. M. met with Mrs. Fred Bell, Tuesday afternoon at her home near Mays. The program included Bible Study by Mrs. George Meyer, Scripture reading and prayer by Mrs. Thomas Erle; talk on "Need of the Missionary" by Mrs. Minor Bell Violets made a pretty decoration for the table on which the two course luncheon was served.

The Ladies C. W. B. M. of Center township held a most interesting meeting yesterday afternoon with Miss Edythe Davis, with the hostess as leader. Fifteen members responded to the roll call, and a new member was taken into the society. Nine visitors were also in attendance. "The Financial Obligations of the Missionary Woman" was an interesting paper read by Mrs. Sarah Stevens, Mrs. Myrtle Brooks read a sketch on the work in "Argentina." Mrs. Bertha Davis gave the Bible study, a lesson from the Psalms. Mrs. Eliza Rhodes asked the hidden questions. Miss Dorothy Dill played a piano solo.

Among those from this city who attended the dance at Glenwood last evening were the Misses Ethel Oakley, Alma and Viola Hackman, Ada and Mildred Wolters, Nellie Brown, Sylvia Lakin, Hazel and Marie Flodder, Effie Young, Henrietta Schantz, Marcella Coyne and Sylvia Mullins, Edward Meredith, Harry Hackman, Lawrence Knecht, Evert Oakley, Harold Perkins, John O'Reilly, William Moore, Harold Brauning, Mr. and Mrs. John Walker, Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Wamsley, Mr. and Mrs. George Camp, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Osborne and Mrs. Ethel Horrall.

Pretty patriotic decorations were used in the home of Mrs. Henry Flodder yesterday, when she, assisted by Mrs. William Fitzgerald, entertained fifteen members of the Catholic Aid society, at her home in West Fourth street. After the short business session, the guests enjoyed the remaining hours over Euchre.

Fourteen families were present at the meeting of the Look-out Society in the auditorium of the New Salem school house Wednesday evening. Long tables were spread and the guests enjoyed a pitch-in supper. Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Winkler of this city were among the guests.

The Tri Kappas had a called meeting last evening with Miss Bertha Monjar, at her home in West Eighth street, with about ten members in attendance. During the evening the members hemmed towels for the Red Cross. The regular meeting will be held in two weeks with Miss Fanny Stiers at her home south of the city.

Mrs. W. A. Alexander entertained the members of the Happy-Go-Lucky club yesterday afternoon at her home west of the city. Fifteen members enjoyed the social time over needlework and the hostess served a well appointed two course luncheon. The next meeting will be with Mrs. J. M. Amos at her home south of the city.

Mrs. Frank Keely was completely surprised last evening when fifteen of her friends came to her home for a pitch-in supper. Pretty cut flowers were used on the table and after the splendid six o'clock dinner was served the guests enjoyed a social evening.

MOTHERS DAY SUNDAY; PROGRAMS ARRANGED

Special Services Will be Followed at all the Churches Paying Tribute to Mother

CHRISTIAN CHURCH PROGRAM

All the churches of the city will pay special attention to Mothers Day Sunday with appropriate programs. At both Sunday school and church services the day will be remembered. The usual practice of remembering Mother with carnations will be followed this year more generally than ever before, it is indicated by the orders green houses are receiving.

The program was announced today for the Sunday school and morning church services at the Main Street Christian church, at both of which Mothers Day will be observed. At the Sunday school Mrs. Borem will deliver the prayer before the lesson study and the orchestra will play two numbers, "The Contest" and "The Referee." At the assembly after the lesson study, the orchestra will give a selection, "Old Melodies;" S. F. Stewart will make a short talk on the subject, "Our Mother;" Mrs. Carl F. Behr will sing a solo, "Mother" and Duane Reed will give a reading. The program will close with a march by the orchestra, "The Promoter."

At the morning church service the Rev. C. M. Yocum will preach on the subject, "Home." Mrs. Behr and Mrs. Yocum will sing a duet, "Memories of Mother."

MINERS THREATEN TO LEAVE FEDERATION

Object to Holding Convention in Spring Instead of the Fall—To Vote Late Today.

ONE PLAN TO DISCONTINUE IT

(By United Press.)

Anderson, Ind., May 11.—Threatened secession of the United Mine Workers from the Indiana State Federation of Labor as a result of the determination to hold the annual meetings at this time of the year instead of in the autumn, was fought out in the special convention of the federation here today.

All night conferences of the executive board of the organization failed to bring about an agreement. A compromise to hold no regular convention on economic grounds as long as the war lasts was submitted. A vote was expected late this afternoon.

Should it carry the miners declare they will bolt the federation convention.

MASONIC MEETING

There will be a called meeting of Phoenix Lodge No. 62 F. & A. M. Friday evening at 7:30 p. m. The M. M. degree will be conferred. Refreshments will be served and a large attendance is desired.

ACT QUICKLY

Delay Has Been Dangerous in Rushville

Do the right thing at the right time. Act quickly in time of danger. In time of Kidney danger Doan's Kidney Pills are most effective. Plenty of Rushville evidence of their worth.

Mrs. W. A. Wylie, 824 N. Arthur St., Rushville, says: "I never had kidney trouble until quite recently. Now, I appreciate what a serious complaint this is and how severely one can suffer from it. 'The trouble began with a dull, dragging pain directly across my kidneys and over my hips. I was utterly unable to do my housework for a week and was in misery. Others of my family had taken Doan's Kidney Pills with excellent results, so I got some from Pitman & Wilson's Drug Store. Soon the pain in my back disappeared."

Pride 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Wylie had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—(Adv.)

CANADA HANGS AMERICAN CROOK

James Hogue, Alias Stewart, Paid With His Life for Murder of Deportation Officer

FIRST HANGING IN 17 YEARS

Brought Into Court, Tried and Convicted in One Day—Crime Last January

(By United Press.)

Sandwich, Ont., May 11.—James Hogue, alias Stewart, notorious American crook, today paid with his life for the murder of W. Marshall Jackson, Canadian deportation officer, of Winnipeg. He died on the scaffold in the Sandwich jail yard. Hogue shot down Jackson in the smoking compartment of a Canadian Pacific passenger train near Windsor, last January. He was in Jackson's custody, being brought to the border to be turned over to Michigan authorities to answer a charge of safe-blowing in Battle Creek, Mich. Jackson was killed with his own revolver which Hogue had extracted from the officers pocket. Following the shooting, the prisoner jumped from the speeding train and escaped. Four days later, weak from cold and hunger, he made his way to a Windsor hotel where he was captured.

Wheels of Canadian justice turned speedily. The prisoner was brought into court, tried, convicted and sentenced to die in a single day. Today's execution was the first in Essex county in 17 years.

WE ARE TRYING TO KEEP PRICES DOWN

Since this war commenced there has been a tremendous increase in prices, due partly to legitimate reasons, but mostly to an insane scramble everywhere to boost prices and get rich quick. Sooner or later the government will take a hand and compel a reduction of prices to normal conditions. Then the price booster will pay the penalty of his greed in the loss of customers. The people will go to the merchant who has done his best for them in keeping prices down as much as he could.

SEED POTATOES—We still have a good supply of all varieties—PRICES REASONABLE.

"The Balanced Meal And School Lunches"

Paper Read by Miss Kate Dennis, Domestic Science Teacher, at Close of "Child Welfare Week" Deals With Food Preparedness as Related to World War.

There perhaps has never been a time in history when the eyes of the whole world have been so centered on the question of food preparedness as it is today.

The efficiency of a nation is dependent upon the physical preparedness of her subjects, while the physical preparedness of the subject is dependent upon the kind of food consumed. Everywhere we are seeing concentrated effort directed toward the production of a greater food supply than our country has been able to produce in the past. America stands today as the "good Samaritan", with hands outstretched offering sustenance to our starving neighbor across the sea. May we not, as subjects of this glorious nation, show our patriotism at this trying time and adopt as our slogan today in Rushville, "Better meals, better children, better Rushville, and better America."

Tradition has predominately influenced our past. Because our mothers, grandmothers, and great-grandmothers practiced serving of certain foods at certain meals, we have followed those same practices. Suddenly we came to realization our modes of living differed from those of our ancestors, and we turned frantically to our food specialists for assistance, to learn that had we only studied Nature, we would find the human body that control all forms of life. The terms, nourishment, food, meals, are then synonymous in that they function as a means of sustaining life within the human body.

All meals, no matter how meager, insufficient or poorly balanced, should have some attention given to their planning for one or more reasons.

The first reason is to satisfy the hunger of the members of the family. This would be an easy task if all the members of the family were in good health, liked the same food, and were engaged in the same activities. Such conditions, however, are seldom found, instead we find prejudices against certain foods, and what one member is especially fond of, another may loathe. There prejudices, unless well founded, should be overcome. The plan should be such as to vary the diet and provide the unexpected. The same food day after day, or at regular intervals becomes monotonous and unpalatable.

Cost is a factor which is constantly entering into the planning of meals. It involves not only the cost of the raw material, but the cost of the fuel used in cooking, and the time and labor spent in service. The present H. C. L. should receive greater consideration than most people give to it. We should know whether the increased cost is due to the consumption overtaking the production, or are we demanding as necessities of life, what were once considered luxuries. If some attention were directed toward those factors which fixed the market price of foods, and cheaper foods, equally as nutritious, substituted it would decrease the cost of living, materially.

There is a great need for economy and judicious buying, but we must distinguish between true and false economy. It is a great mistake to stint your table of nourishing foods and pay out the family income for medicine, rest cures and money spent elsewhere to satisfy the demands of hunger, or a craving for unwholesome foods.

Since the health, strength, and working capacity of everyone is dependent upon food, it is the most vital reason why our meals should be planned.

A diet must contain enough protein to build and repair the tissues of the body. During childhood and youth, the need for protein foods is greater than during maturity and old age, because the period of growth is more rapid and the tissues wear out faster. Weak, stunted, and diseased bodies are more apt to be due to poorly balanced meals than to inherited weaknesses. Nature is too often blamed for imperfection, when a little knowledge of the body needs and the foods which supply them may have prevented weakness and deformity.

If you doubt this statement, observe the type of meals a man will order in a restaurant and compare it with the meal a woman usually orders. Which of the two shows the greater power of endurance? You will find that the meal ordered by a man includes such foods as contain protein, while the meal ordered by a woman is made up largely of sugar and starchy foods. The demand of the body for the minerals Fe, P, Ca needed in greater quantity by growing girls and women, and found in such foods, are too often omitted from the meals of the girls and women.

The diet must contain fat, starch, and sugar sufficient to maintain temperature for energy to carry on the vital processes, and for work and activity. It must contain bulk in the form of cellulose, sufficient to stimulate the intestines, so that the food will move fast enough to prevent putrefaction, and the indigestible food can be expelled from the body. Sufficient water is necessary to supply the tissues and the fluids of the body, and to aid in carrying off the waste products. It should contain enough mineral to supply the needs of the fluids and the tissues.

To summarize, we may say, that the meal must be so balanced that the amount of each food principle present will be adequate to properly nourish the body and to carry on its functions with ease. General health is improved by a good, wholesome, easily digested, and balanced daily ration.

Chief among the faults of many planned meals is the attempt to economize by the consumption of quantities of bake-shop food to the exclusion of such foods as are essential to proper nourishment. Meat, milk, and eggs are high priced but they are cheap when compared with the cost of medicine, medical attention, and loss of wages during sickness occasioned by underfeeding. The taste for nutritious food could be easily cultivated if the general effect of such a diet on health were known and followed.

No set standard can be given that would apply to all families, since the needs and activities of groups vary widely. The experiments of Attwater and Chittenden may serve as a guide.

The occupation of each member of the family, the sex, weight, age, and activities are the factors which influence the making of the family dietary; the amount of food being dependent upon them.

The value of the food in terms of its nourishment, is measured by the amount of heat it can furnish to the body; the unit of heat is called the calorie, therefore the standard of any individual dietary is based upon the number of calories needed by the individual.

Since many of us are not familiar with the scientific method of calculation, we are compelled to resort to certain signs and symptoms in the growing child, as our guide. If all mothers will make it their duty to see that the child eats such foods as furnish the best material for growth and energy at the proper time, it would aid materially in producing better standards of living and more healthy children. At the ages when growth seems most rapid the child should have plenty of such foods as milk and eggs, in order that the growth of tissue may be properly nourished. The languid, tired feeling evidenced in the spring of the year, warns us that the body is becoming depleted of its iron, and this need may be met by the feeding of green vegetables, particularly lettuce, kale, spinach, and greens of all kinds, rather than the regular iron tonic so often prescribed.

The common practice of indulging children in quantities of sweet foods is much to be deplored. The child who eats quantities of candy and cakes, drink sodas between meals, does not care for those less

Senreco
The double-service tooth paste,
keeps teeth clean AND GUMS HEALTHY.

Keeping the gums healthy and the mouth sweet is very important to health; more teeth are lost through the loosening of the tissue that holds the teeth in place than from decay.

Dental science to-day demands that a tooth paste must keep the gums healthy as well as clean the teeth.

Senreco was formulated to meet this requirement. Hundreds of dentists are prescribing and using Senreco because they have found that it does measure up to that standard.

SENRECO IS A WONDERFUL CLEANSER.

In addition to its remedial properties Senreco is a wonderful cleanser; acts directly on the mucin film, the basis of tartar; leaves the mouth cool and clean-feeling. As some one has expressed it—Senreco gives one a new idea on mouth cleanliness.

Get a tube to-day at your druggists or toilet counter—enjoy the healthy, cleanly feeling its use gives your mouth and gums. Notice how brilliantly white Senreco makes your teeth. It performs this two-fold service for you and yet costs no more than the ordinary, old-fashioned tooth paste that simply cleans the teeth and leaves a pleasant taste—25 cents for a large 3 ounce tube.

appetizing foods which make up his daily meals, and, as a rule, he leaves the table without having more than tasted the food set before him. The reason is this; the chief constituent of the group of sweet foods is sugar, which immediately appeals to the nerves of taste and soon satisfies the appetite of the child, and when he is called upon to partake of those foods which he should eat to make his body strong, his appetite has already been satisfied by the sweets, but they do not properly nourish him.

I do not wish to be misunderstood about the use of sugar as a food but I do want to emphasize the fact that the time to eat sweet food is not when the stomach is empty and crying for foods essential to its proper nourishment, but rather after the appetite has been satisfied by such wholesome foods as meat, vegetables, bread, milk, and eggs. These facts tend to show that the balancing of the meal is a vital factor in the production of health and human efficiency.

Since the adoption of a universal standard is an impossibility, I can only suggest a few simple rules upon which your standard may be based, and hope that you may find them helpful in establishing a standard that will assist in meeting the needs in your family group. A breakfast should consist of,—

1. Fruit in some form, preferably fresh.
2. Cereals, best from the whole of the grain, and cheapest if purchased unprepared for use.
3. Some protein dish, as eggs, fish, hash, or a small quantity of meat.
4. Some form of bread, as toast, bread, muffins, biscuits, griddle cakes, and rolls.
5. A hot drink, coffee or cocoa.

A dinner should consist of:

1. Meat, roast, stew, meat- loaf, or meat-pie.
2. Potatoes and one other vegetable, as peas, beans, or one of the green vegetables that require cooking. They may be served mashed, creamed, fried, scalloped, or baked. Bread.
3. Salad, when possible. Green vegetables with dressing. Heavy salads should not be served with a dinner but form the principal of lunch or supper.
4. Dessert.
5. Tea or coffee.

Lunch or supper:

1. A hot meat dish, as chops, meat pie; a cheese dish, as macaroni and cheese, cheese fondue, or rarebit; or cold meat, or a salad; or a cream soup.
2. Potatoes and bread.
3. Sauce and cake.
4. Tea, cocoa, or milk.

Aside from the daily meals, the question of the school lunch must not be overlooked. The lunch box may be made a source of pleasure to the school child or the worker. To make it so, the lunch must be varied on successive days. Many kinds of food or food in great quantities, are not good for a child that sits quietly all day or for people who live an inactive life. It is both possible and necessary, if the lunch is not to become monotonous, to have different foods for each day of the week. As in any meal, all the food stuffs should be represented in the foods of the luncheon box.

Since bread is the basis of nearly all lunch boxes, sandwiches form the most convenient way of carrying foods that should be eaten with bread, and because of their frequency, they should be varied. Different breads, as graham, Boston brown, and nut bread may be used. Muffins and rolls give variety to the form of bread used.

The filling for sandwiches offer many variations; meat, eggs, cheese, and vegetables combined with salad dressings, offer a food variety. Among the sweet foods which are particularly palatable to children and, at the same time, furnish a nutritious food are, dried fruits, bananas and nuts. Dried fruits, such as dates, figs and prunes make excellent food when combined with bread and butter and, at the same time, furnish the iron so essential in the diet of anemic children.

Relishes such as pickles, olives, and radishes, are desirable in the lunch box of a mature person.

Cake is a common constituent of the lunch box but for children only the plainer cakes, i. e. those containing little fat should be used. Plain cake, cookies, sponge cake, lady fingers, and ginger bread, if not too highly spiced, are permissible in the school lunch.

The packing of the school lunch should not be overlooked, as the appearance of the food is one great factor in arousing the appetite and aiding the digestion of the food.

In closing I want to tell you what the school is doing to teach the balancing of the diet and ask the mothers who have been interested in coming out today, to lend their assistance and encouragement when the children try to carry into the home the principles they have learned at school.

In preparation for this paper the following list of questions were submitted to seventeen freshmen girls and it is interesting to note the results.

1. Name the five foods you like best.
2. How often do you indulge yourself in the eating of such foods?
3. Do you eat three meals a day, regularly?
4. Are you hungry at meal time?
5. Do you eat between meals?
6. What do you eat?
7. Do you indulge in sweet drinks, such as sodas daily?
8. What kind of a drink do you usually order?
9. Do you eat a hearty meal after such indulgence?
10. What prompts the desire for such foods?
11. Do you have a good meal at home preceeding such indulgence?

The results of the questionnaire show:

1. The most popular foods were candy, sodas, cakes, pickles, olives, pastry, baked beans, salads, potatoes, cereals and peas. Very few of our most common wholesome foods were selected among the most likable foods.

2. The indulgence in strongly acid, and sweet foods varied from once a week to as often as the child desired to eat them.

3. About 50 per cent of the group ate three meals per day, the balance varying from sometimes one meal a day to two meals per day, taken at regular intervals.

- 4-5. A very small percent were hungry at meal time because they practiced eating between meals.

- 6-7-8. Candy, cakes, sodas and pickles were the most popular foods eaten between meals.

9. Only two girls ate a hearty meal after such indulgence.

10. The desire for such foods is prompted by a desire to be sociable, or as one girl expressed herself, "just to be doing something;" and in not a single case by the demands of hunger.

11. All were well fed at their home table.

The facts revealed in the above tabulation show that a high percentage of children eat too much sweet and acid foods, and do not eat the foods which build the body tissues during growth. Irregularity of the habits of eating are bad for children in that they retard the natural desire for wholesome and health producing foods; that such desires are not prompted by the demands of hunger but are more of a sociable nature.

The public schools are attempting through the dietary study, offered in the Domestic Science courses, to lay the foundation principles for a more rational type of living and we ask the hearty support of all parents in this effort.

MEANS LIGHT AND POWER COSTS MOREInterpretation of City Ordinance by State Inspector Here Yesterday
Changes Aspect

BLANKET FORM IN USE HERE

Inspector Advises First 50 Kilowatts Should be 10 Cents Regardless of Amount Used

A new interpretation of the city ordinance regulating the charges for electricity by Inspector Ramsey of the Public Service Commission, who was in the city yesterday, will mean an increased rate for all consumers, both for power consumers and domestic users.

Inspector Ramsey advised the city officials to use the new interpretation to avoid the penalty for discrimination. In the past the city has been charging ten cents a kilowatt from one to 50 kilowatts, from fifty-one to 100, nine cents and so on down until the rate is six cents for all over 200 kilowatts.

The new interpretation is that the city should charge the usual ten cents for the first fifty kilowatts, then nine cents for 51 to 100 kilowatts, but the rates are to be figured separately. In the past the city has been applying the rates in blanket form.

For instance if a consumer used 60 kilowatts a month, the city gave him the nine cent rate for the entire amount of electricity consumed. The Public Service Commission says this is not correct. They would charge the consumer the ten-cent rate for the first fifty and the nine-cent rate for the next fifty kilowatts. The city's charge in the past for a 60 kilowatt bill has been $4.50, the entire amount being based on the nine-cent charge. Under the new interpretation of a sixty kilowatt bill the first fifty would be charged at a rate of ten cents and the other ten kilowatts at the nine-cent charge, making the total bill $5.90.

This is the same system used for reading the water meters. The water bills are computed on the different rates and the inspector for the commission advised that the city immediately start collecting the electric bills in this manner. He declared the present method was discriminatory. The city has been charging on the theory that the more a man used the less he was entitled to pay, which is all right, but the rates must be computed between the various stages and not a blanket rate from the beginning.

At least four city treasurers have been collecting the light and power bills in the same manner now employed and no one ever questioned it. The question arose as to whether the city treasurer would be compelled to go back all those years and collect the money that the public service commission says is due the city. This would prove a huge task and would certainly cause a long and loud howl to go up. The commission inspector promised to take the matter up and a ruling on this point is expected in a few days.

To avoid any trouble with the commission the light and power rates for this month will be computed in the new manner prescribed. Every consumer of electricity in the city who consumes over 50 kilowatts a month will be hit by this, which practically means an increase in rate. Instead of computing the bills on one rate the various rates for each fifty kilowatts for domestic consumers and for each 500 kilowatts for power users will be used.

The users of electricity for power will be specially hard hit. The rate for this class of service is five cents for the first 500 kilowatts and on a scale down to two cents for all over 1,500 kilowatts. The city has been charging four cents for all over 500.

TWO MORE YOUNG MEN
CALLED TO THE COLORSByron Cowing and Scott Buell Are Ordered to Report at Ft. Harrison For Officers Training

MAKES SIX GOING FROM HERE

Two more Rushville young men have received orders to join the colors, in addition to the four ordered yesterday to report at Fort Benjamin Harrison for the officers training camp which will open next Tuesday morning. The two who have just been called are Byron Cowing, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Cowing, and Scott Buell, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Buell.

There are four other young men from here who passed the examination but who have not yet been ordered to report. They are expecting a call at any moment because not enough men have been ordered to report to fill the camp. It is believed that all four of them will get in the camp.

Byron Cowing and James Shannahan, one of the four called yesterday, went to Fort Harrison today. Scott Buell does not expect to go until the first of next week. Perry Oneal, Harry Petry and Walter Gartin answered the call yesterday. It was reported here today that the boys from Indiana had been assigned to the barracks at the fort, which will give them excellent quarters for the three months training.

Labor is Available

At the suggestion of the Chicago branch of the United States employment service the Rushville postoffice will become a sort of a clearing house for farmers in Rush county seeking farm laborers and men seeking farm employment.

In a letter received from the inspector-in-charge of the Chicago branch of this bureau by Postmaster Hunt the inspector announces that his office is very much interested in securing competent farm help for work on farms in the district comprising his jurisdiction which includes the state of Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin.

Up to this time, the postmaster is advised, the Chicago office has received more applications from farmers for experienced farm help than it has been able to supply.

However, the inspector-in-charge announces that he is daily receiving applications from well-appearing boys and young men, most of them from sixteen to twenty-one years of age, from high schools and coming from very good families, who are anxious to go on farms in Indiana and Illinois for the coming season.

These young men are willing to work for reasonable wages, and it is believed that their energy and willingness will in a measure compensate their lack of experience. Some of these young men have had limited experience on the farm, but most of them have had none whatever. They are not, the inspector says, of the floating class, but are young men and boys of good address who, the inspector feels, would in the main be acceptable to employers.

Experienced farm help, as Rush county farmers are well advised, is

WOMEN NEED NOT BE EMBARRASSEDThey Can Tell Their Age When Registering Because Woman Will be Clerk of the Board

FRANCES FRAZEE APPOINTED

Republican and Democratic County
Chairmen Recommend—Period
Begins June 22

The women voters of Rush county need not feel embarrassed in giving their ages when they go to the court house between June 22 and August 20 to register in order to get a vote at the special election to name delegates to the constitutional convention, because there will be a woman member of the registration board. That member will be Miss Frances Frazee, who will be chief clerk of the board.

The appointments to the registration were made today by Clerk George B. Moore, Jr., who acted upon the recommendations submitted by the two county chairmen. Fon Riggs, republican county chairman, named Verne W. Norris as the republican member of the board and Vorhees Cavitt, democratic county chairman, named Donald L. Smith as the democratic member. These two appointees with Clerk Moore, by reason of his office, will compose the board.

Mr. Riggs then named Miss Frazee, as chief clerk, and Will Newbold was named as deputy clerk by Mr. Cavitt. The two clerks will have most of the work to perform. The board will be in session from June 22 for a period of sixty days. Application has already been made to the county commissioners for a room in the court house for the registration board as is provided by law and the commissioners will likely assign the board its own room.

The registration is to be general. In other words every voter, both men and women, who desire to vote at the special election for constitutional convention delegates must register during the sixty-day period. This registration is only for the special election; but will also hold good for the city election in November.

As this is the first election in which the women will vote it is believed practically all will participate and this means plenty of work for the registration board as all of the names will have to be recorded. It has been estimated that with the women voting the total vote in the county will run over 10,000.

Officials stated today that there was every reason to believe that the women voters would more readily tell their ages to one of their own sex and therefore saw a great benefit in having Miss Frazee on the board.

DIXON UP TO OLD TRICKS

Rushville Man Engages in Fight at Connersville—Fined $5.

John Dixon of Jersey City, was fined $5 and costs in the Connersville police court today as the result of a fight there yesterday afternoon. With three Connersville men Dixon became involved in a free-for-all fight in the streets of that city. Dixon, who is handy with throwing bricks, having recently heaved one through a window at the Grand hotel, practiced his old trick yesterday. For a time the bricks flew thick and fast. One of the bricks went wild and hit Paul Offutt, a former resident of this city, who is a driver for the fire department there, on the knee, inflicting a painful injury.

Princeton—Sixteen hundred school children today participated in a parade and patriotic school celebration.

SPRING DRIVE ON DIRT OPENS MAY 14"Commander-in-Chief" and "Fighting Forces" Aim to Rout Enemy out of "Trenches"

SAME RULES TO BE FOLLOWED

Street Cleaning Department Will Not Haul Ashes or Old Limbs
Dumped Into Alley

The annual spring "drive" on trash and rubbish will be opened in Rushville next Monday because the city council has designated the week of May 14 to 19 as "clean-up" week.

Will Havens, street commissioner, is commander-in-chief of the "fighting forces" and aims to have the enemy, "dirt," routed out of the trenches and completely annihilated by the end of next week. The attack on the first line of defense will take place Monday. The commander-in-chief will be ably supported by the street cleaning department.

The city will observe the usual custom of hauling away debris that collects in the alleys during the winter. No ashes or old limbs that city residents dump in the alley will be hauled free of charge.

The street force will be used for the transportation department and the "enemy" will be hauled away as rapidly as the advance is made by the attacking forces. Women's clubs and other organizations have taken an active part in the clean-up campaign in the past and it is expected that the council will receive the same degree of co-operation from such organizations this spring. The battle formation will be complete, even to the organization of the ambulance corps which will be expected to beautify unsightly corners and vacant spots with flower beds and lawns.

Experience has proved that the best results are not obtained from clean-up and paint-up week until after the house cleaning season is over and for that reason the official week was fixed in May for by that time the weather will permit residents to give more attention to their lawns. During the house cleaning season much rubbish and many worthless articles are collected and the residents take advantage of the offer of the city to have such rubbish removed free of charge.

Because of the many gardens that have been planted this spring it is believed that more interest than ever will be shown in the clean-up and paint-up campaign. Residents got an early start in removing the trash from their back lots when they spaded up the ground for their gardens and will be glad to co-operate in completing the task now. The street department will haul away all trash and rubbish without charge as an inducement to the citizens to adopt the week of May 14-19 as the time for getting their premises in first class condition for the summer.

WHITTON SENT TO "FARM"

Gets Sixty Days in Police Court For Resisting Officer.

Harvey (Kid) Whitton will not likely fight with an officer of the law in Rushville again for some time. It is a sure thing he will not for a period of over 60 days, because he was sent to the penal farm this morning by Mayor Bebout. Whitton was fined $1 and costs on a charge of public intoxication and then was fined $5 and costs and given 60 days on the farm for assault and battery. He resisted Policeman Seward and both charges were filed against him. He will likely be taken to the penal farm tomorrow by Sheriff Cavitt.

William H. Tambrick has filed suit on a note against John M. Carr and Owen J. Carr, demanding $500.

DARDANELLES FOR

Reasons For It

WAY TO AVOID ALL JEALOUSY

By W. S. FORREST
(Written for United Press.)

Paris, May 11.—Belgium's flag to fly from Constantinople and Belgium's control of the Dardanelles is the allies revised plan for its war aims as respects Turkey.

On high authority today it can be stated that this change in program has been thoroughly discussed by the allied governments.

Since new Russia denounced claim to the Straits, the subject has held a keen interest for the allies.

No one of the entente powers will think of the war's conclusion with the Turk still in Europe.

To grant control of the world's greatest waterway to any of the world's great nations might cause jealousy and endanger the future of world peace for which the allies are fighting. It is likely as a result to be given to Belgium.

HOUSE DEBATES REVENUE

Senate Finance Committee Begins
Hearing on Measure—Object to Corporation TaxBy ROBERT J. BENDER
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, May 11.—That the Roosevelt division issue is still very much alive was evidenced today not only in the senate but in the house as well.

Representative Murray Hulbert, New York democrat, introduced a bill authorizing Roosevelt to raise a volunteer division. Hulbert voted against the Roosevelt division amendment to the selective service army bill on the ground that it might interfere in that measure.

Another evidence of the fight that is still to be made on the Roosevelt issue was when Gardner of Massachusetts and Austin of Tenn., objected to a suggestion of Chairman Dent of the house military committee that the debate of the Roosevelt idea be limited to two hours.

Owing to the pressure on congress for action on the army bill it is practically certain that the fight for the colonel will not endure long. The report of the conference committee, it is believed, will be agreed upon early next week.

While the house continued debate on the administration's $1,800,000,000 revenue bill the senate finance committee today begin its hearing on the measure. Testimony from those affected by the income, excess profits, beverages and tobacco taxes was heard.

Paul D. Cravath, Bethlehem Steel company and K. A. Kratz, Lackawanna Steel company, speaking on the income tax, objected to a tax on corporation stock dividends. They said none of their stockholders objected to a tax on incomes but pointed out that corporation stock dividends don't amount to actual dividends because they take nothing from the corporation and add nothing to the income of the stockholders.

THIRTY-THREE TO RECEIVE DIPLOMASList of Graduates of the High School This Year is Announced by School Authorities

COMMENCEMENT ON MAY 25

Junior-Senior Reception Will be
May 18 and Class Play Week
Following School's Close

Thirty-three will be graduated from the Rushville high school this year, according to the senior class roll which has just been made up. As has been previously announced by the school authorities, A. E. Wigam, a noted chautauqua orator, will deliver the commencement address and the exercises will be held at the Graham Annex Friday night, May 25.

The first event of the commencement week festivities will be the Junior-Senior reception which will take place at the Graham Annex gymnasium Friday evening, May 18 at 8:15 o'clock. The gymnasium will be fitted up as a first class "battlefield" and it is calculated that every boy and every girl will be ready to go to war as soldiers and Red Cross nurses, by the time they emerge from their trip across the "ocean" and over a battlefield in France. Very unique invitations have been issued for the affair.

The Senior class play this year will be "The Witching Hour." It will be given at the Graham Annex auditorium the week following commencement on a date not definitely determined. It will probably be Tuesday evening, May 29, or Thursday evening, May 31. Rehearsals have already been started and Tarkington Baker of Indianapolis, who is a dramatic critic and playwright and has had some experience at producing, has been obtained to coach the players.

The officers of the Senior class are: Miss Harriet DeArmond Smith, president; Clifford William Mauzy, vice-president; Miss Agnes Valeta Walton, secretary-treasurer. Among the list of graduates is Thomas Bernard Saunders, the high school boy who joined the United States Marine Corps and is now stationed at Port Royal, S. C. He was assured his diploma without finishing the school year because of his patriotic act in joining the service. The list of those to be graduated follows:

Esther Anderson, Mary Louise Bliss, Helen Marie Clark, John McGehee Fleehart, Elsie Marie Frazee, Helen Kathryn Frazee, Lucille Elizabeth Geraghty, Alfred Norris Gilbert, Viola May Gray, Hermoine Josephine Hughes, Goldie May Jackson, Clifford William Mauzy, Floy Marie Meyer, Charline Esther Mc-

extremely scarce this year, but the United States employment service announces that it is prepared to furnish inexperienced help in almost unlimited numbers.
Postmaster Hunt has indicated to the inspector-in-charge of the Chicago office that he is quite willing to give all aid possible in placing this help.

The Chicago office asks that the postmaster put in a requisition for blank forms if he can co-operate with the employment agency, but Postmaster Hunt found this was needless because he already has a supply of blank forms similar to those now being sent out. He was provided with these blanks about a year ago when the government employment agencies were working through the postmasters to get farm workers.

The postmaster will be glad to submit correspondence with the Chicago office, in which the proposition is discussed in a more detailed manner, to any interested person who will call at the postoffice.

Robert Bowman Wants Damages From the I. & C. Because His Jaw Was Broken in Accident

COMES ON CHANGE OF VENUE

The damage suit of Robert Bowman of Indianapolis against the Indianapolis Traction and Terminal company, demanding $5,000 for personal injuries, reached the local circuit court this morning on a change of venue from Hancock county.

A wagon on which Bowman was riding was struck by a street car in Indianapolis. Among other injuries Bowman alleged that his jaw was so badly hurt that he is now unable to chew tobacco, thus being deprived of a pleasure.

The suit was originally filed in Marion Superior court, room 5, and the defendant took the change of venue to Hancock county. The present change was made on motion of the plaintiff.

Mrs. J. E. Bean is at the bedside of her father, the Rev. W. S. Rollins in North Vernon, who is suffering from a stroke of paralysis. The Rev. Mr. Rollins is in a critical condition. WAR MISSIONS WILL JOIN IN A RECEPTION Snake Oil

ALSO FIGHTING MEN SOON

New York, N. Y., May 11.—Having practically completed their task of showing America how it can help the European Allies win the world war, the French and British war missions will join here tonight in a farewell reception.

The commissioners are going home. The day of their departure is not far distant.

Both commissions are highly pleased with the result of the world war council. Both groups return home with American cash in hand, with the promise of food, munitions and shipping at once—and fighting men soon.

The commissioners are believed, practically, to have completed a system of anti-submarine warfare, which will wipe out the submarine menace.

"Let me suggest that everyone who creates or cultivates a garden helps, and helps greatly to solve the problem of the feeding of the nations."—President Wilson.

Patriotism Begins at Home

In emergencies, it may be necessary for some patriots to unyoke the oxen and leave the plow standing in the furrow, but the lasting support of a nation requires efficient patriots to keep the plows going. This is the opinion of C. P. Hartley, in charge of the corn investigations of the United States department of agriculture, expressed in one of a series of articles regarding corn.

The soil supports the corn; corn supports animals; corn and animals support an army; and "armies fight on their bellies." Let us all properly care for the goose that lays the golden egg. It all resolves itself into the question of whether the United States can produce larger crops this year in order to feed both the United States and Europe. The responsibility then rests largely with the farmer.

Whether corn prices are high or low, the farmer's profit depends on obtaining large acre yields. Large acre yields reduce the expense of both labor and land. It is remarkable that acre yields are increasing most rapidly in the states southeast and the states north and west of the corn belt states. These increased acre yields are largely due to earlier and thicker planting of better seed corn. Unnecessary losses from planting poor seed corn are diminishing as it becomes more fully realized that neither frosts nor droughts can exterminate good acclimated varieties if sufficient seed be saved from good crops to last until another good crop is obtained. Good seed corn will retain its powers of germination and production for four or five years.

In the central and southern states, the scarcity of soil moisture in the middle of the summer reduces the corn crop more than all other causes combined. The best assurance of a good corn crop is to get moisture into the soil in as large quantities and to as great depths as possible, the corn experts point out.

To allow weeds, alfalfa, rye or other plants to grow during the spring upon land to be planted to corn.

CONQUERS RHEUMATISM IN A VERY FEW DAYS

It is an established fact that one-half teaspoonful of Rheuma taken once a day has driven the pain and agony from thousands of racked, crippled and despairing rheumatics during the last five years.

Powerful and sure; quick acting; yet harmless; Rheuma gives blessed relief almost at once. The magic name has reached every hamlet in the land and there is hardly a disgruntled sufferer who can not tell you of aches and pains cured.

If you want to dispense every particle of uric acid poison in your body and drive it out through the natural channels so that you will be forever free from rheumatism, get a 50-cent bottle of Rheuma today.

Genial Rheuma, with guarantee.

corn is to invite failure of the corn crop.

To allow the soil to become dry enough in the spring before plowing to break up in big clods is to invite failure of the corn crop. If the plowing has been delayed until spring, the land should be disked before it has a chance to become too dry. Deep plowing should not be done in the spring. If followed by drought, it causes the land to dry out to greater depths than would result from shallow plowing.

Now Rich Man's Food

Rice and salmon, always considered the poor man's food, have joined the high price squad, according to a United Press dispatch from Chicago. When tenderloin and potatoes and other things jumped clear out of sight, the food experts told the man with the lean pocketbook to feed his family on rice and salmon. Rice has almost doubled in price and salmon did a similar stunt. These are about the last of the staple products which have been reasonable in price up to this time.

The sooner congress gets to the question of food control, the better will be the country because food speculators will have to give way before remedial legislation.

We are at war. We want officers. We want men. We want guns. We want ammunition. We want equipment. We want ships. We want food. We want everything and have darned little of anything.

The billions of money the United States are lending the allies will be spent in this country for food and war supplies. That means work for everybody left at home and good money for your work. Well!

"Following the flag" with some young bloods is confined to attaching it to the front ends of their automobiles.

"Wasting food is a sin," says our neighbor. You bet—we're all growing wings.

LAST APPEAL MADE TO BOYS AND GIRLS

Christie Urges Them to Plant Gardens and Aid in Increased Food Movement

NO SLACKERS ARE WANTED

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, May 11.—A last appeal for boys and girls to get behind the increased food movement in Indiana was issued today by G. I. Christie, state food director. He warned that it will soon be too late to plant gardens and children who wish to aid their country by planting gardens should be getting busy.

"Every boy and girl should be engaged in some productive work this year," said Christie. "They should raise corn, potatoes, tomatoes, poultry, a pig or calf, preserve fruits and vegetables or in some other way contribute to production or conservation of food.

There should be no slackers. School officials are required to see that every boy and girl under their supervision takes up and completes some productive work this season."

FOUNDERS DAY AND HOME COMING FOR M. P. CHURCH

Founders Day will be observed and a home coming and basket dinner will be held at the Methodist Protestant church at New Salem Sunday. The program will be as follows:

11 a. m. sermon by H. L. Freeman, D. D., corresponding secretary of the Methodist Protestant church, Celina, Ohio.

Noon—Basket dinner at the church.

2 p. m.—Platform meeting at which a sketch of the early history of the New Salem church will be read and remembrance talks will be made by the older members, friends and former pastors of the church.

7:30 p. m.—sermon by the Rev. Mr. Freeman.

The Rev. M. P. Liff is pastor of the church.

TODAY'S HOOSIER ODDITY

Indianapolis, May 11—"Idle one day No flag."—read a report received by Michael Scollard, state mine inspector, from the Miami coal company in Vigo county. The inspector investigated the unusual report and found that the boss of the mine had been ordered to hoist a flag over the works. He neglected his instructions and next morning, when mine workers, mostly foreigners, failed to see the Stars and Stripes flying over the mine, they refused to work. The mine was closed one day while the flag was procured.

Noon lunch served in the room east of Aldridges grocery, Saturday. Benefit of Red Cross Society, Served by Psi Iota Xi. 4913.

The Ladies Musicales will give a program appropriate to Mothers' day at the regular meeting Monday afternoon in the court house assembly room. Every member is entitled to bring one guest, the guest to be a mother. Miss Alice Norris is the leader for this program. The program follows:

Piano duet—"Bonnie Sweet Darling, the Maid of Dundee"—Mrs. D. H. Dean and Miss Alice Norris.

Vocal solo, "Mother O' Mine"—Mrs. Charles Offutt.

Reading—Miss Leah Flint.

Vocal solo, "A Song to Mother"—Miss Mable Morris.

Chorus—"Songs Our Mothers Sing"—Ladies Musicales with solo parts by Miss Edith Buell and Mrs. Esther McCloud.

Piano duet, "Fisher's Horn Pipe Medley"—Mrs. A. L. Aldridge and Mrs. Edward Chambers.

Vocal duet—"Oh, That We Two Were Maying"—Mrs. Will Amos and Miss Edith Buell.

Monologue—Miss Norma Smith.

Piano quartette—Mrs. Parke, Mrs. Aldridge, Mrs. Dean and Miss Alice Norris.

Boy's Chorus, of the high school—John Norris, Carl Hawkins, Herbert Alexander and Harold Walcott.

The student members of the musicale who will assist in the program are Miss Laverne Davis, Miss Mae Taylor and Miss Frances Lyons.

Fifteen members of the Woman's Home Missionary society of the M. E. church met with Mrs. Frank Sparks, yesterday afternoon at her home in North Main street. Mrs. C. H. Parsons was leader and gave an inspiring talk on "Our New Possessions." She also talked on Cuba and Port Rico. Mrs. W. M. Whisitt talked on the Methodist Orphans home at Greencastle. The home has been organized three years, and orphan children are sent there to be cared for until a Christian home is found for them. At present there are thirty-three in the home. A short business meeting was held and a market given by the third division of the society.

Eight members of the Thursday afternoon Bridge club and one guest Miss Belma Clark, met with Mrs. Ben Humes yesterday afternoon at her home south of the city. A dainty salad course was served by the hostess at the conclusion of the joyful afternoon.

The ladies of the Plum Creek, C. W. B. M. met with Mrs. Fred Bell, Tuesday afternoon at her home near Mays. The program included Bible Study by Mrs. George Meyer, Scripture reading and prayer by Mrs. Thomas Ertle; talk on "Need of the Missionary" by Mrs. Minor Bell. Violets made a pretty decoration for the table on which the two course luncheon was served.

The Ladies C. W. B. M. of Center township held a most interesting meeting yesterday afternoon with Miss Edythe Davis, with the hostess as leader. Fifteen members responded to the roll call, and a new member was taken into the society. Nine visitors were also in attendance. "The Financial Obligations of the Missionary Woman" was an interesting paper read by Mrs. Sarah Stevens. Mrs. Myrtle Brooks read a sketch on the work in "Argentina." Mrs. Bertha Davis gave the Bible study, a lesson from the Psalms. Mrs. Eliza Rhodes asked the hidden questions. Miss Dorothy Dill played a piano solo.

Among those from this city who attended the dance at Glenwood last evening were the Misses Ethel Oakley, Alma and Viola Hackman, Ada and Mildred Wolters, Nellie Brown, Sylvia Lakin, Hazel and Marie Flodder, Effie Young, Henrietta Schantz, Marcella Coyne and Sylvia Mullins, Edward Meredith, Harry Hackman, Lawrence Knecht, Evert Oakley, Harold Perkins, John O'Reilly, William Moore, Harold Braunling, Mr. and Mrs. John Walker, Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Wamsley, Mr. and Mrs. George Camp, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Osborne and Mrs. Ethel Horrall.

Pretty patriotic decorations were used in the home of Mrs. Henry Flodder yesterday, when she, assisted by Mrs. William Fitzgerald, entertained fifteen members of the Catholic Aid society, at her home in West Fourth street. After the short business session, the guests enjoyed the remaining hours over Euchre.

Fourteen families were present at the meeting of the Look-out Society in the auditorium of the New Salem school house Wednesday evening. Long tables were spread and the guests enjoyed a pitch-in supper. Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Winkler of this city were among the guests.

The Tri Kappas had a called meeting last evening with Miss Bertha Monjar, at her home in West Eighth street, with about ten members in attendance. During the evening the members hemmed towels for the Red Cross. The regular meeting will be held in two weeks with Miss Fanny Stiers at her home south of the city.

Mrs. W. A. Alexander entertained the members of the Happy-Go-Lucky club yesterday afternoon at her home west of the city. Fifteen members enjoyed the social time over needlework and the hostess served a well appointed two course luncheon. The next meeting will be with Mrs. J. M. Amos at her home south of the city.

Mrs. Frank Keely was completely surprised last evening when fifteen of her friends came to her home for a pitch-in supper. Pretty cut flowers were used on the table and after the splendid six o'clock dinner was served the guests enjoyed a social evening.

MOTHERS DAY SUNDAY; PROGRAMS ARRANGED

Special Services Will be Followed at all the Churches Paying Tribute to Mother

CHRISTIAN CHURCH PROGRAM

All the churches of the city will pay special attention to Mothers Day Sunday with appropriate programs. At both Sunday school and church services the day will be remembered. The usual practice of remembering Mother with carnations will be followed this year more generally than ever before, it is indicated by the orders green houses are receiving.

The program was announced today for the Sunday school and morning church services at the Main Street Christian church, at both of which Mothers Day will be observed. At the Sunday school Mrs. Borem will deliver the prayer before the lesson study and the orchestra will play two numbers, "The Contest" and "The Referee." At the assembly after the lesson study, the orchestra will give a selection, "Old Melodies." S. F. Stewart will make a short talk on the subject, "Our Mother;" Mrs. Carl F. Beher will sing a solo, "Mother" and Duane Reed will give a reading. The program will close with a march by the orchestra, "The Promoter."

At the morning church service the Rev. C. M. Yocum will preach on the subject, "Home." Mrs. Beher and Mrs. Yocum will sing a duet, "Memories of Mother."

MINERS THREATEN TO LEAVE FEDERATION

Object to Holding Convention in Spring Instead of the Fall—To Vote Late Today.

ONE PLAN TO DISCONTINUE IT

(By United Press.)
Anderson, Ind., May 11.—Threatened secession of the United Mine Workers from the Indiana State Federation of Labor as a result of the determination to hold the annual meetings at this time of the year instead of in the autumn, was fought out in the special convention of the federation here today.

All night conferences of the executive board of the organization failed to bring about an agreement. A compromise to hold no regular convention on economic grounds as long as the war lasts was submitted. A vote was expected late this afternoon.

Should it carry the miners declare they will bolt the federation convention.

Mrs. W. A. Wylie, 824 N. Arthur St., Rushville, says: "I never had kidney trouble until quite recently. Now, I appreciate what a serious complaint this is and how severely one can suffer from it. The trouble began with a dull, dragging pain directly across my kidneys and over my hips. I was utterly unable to do my housework for a week and was in misery. Others of my family had taken Doan's Kidney Pills with excellent results, so I got some from Pitman & Wilson's Drug Store. Soon the pain in my back disappeared." Price 50c, at all dealers. CANADA HANGS AMERICAN CROOK

FIRST HANGING IN 17 YEARS

Brought Into Court, Tried and Convicted in One Day—Crime Last January

(By United Press.)

Sandwich, Ont., May 11.—James Hogue, alias Stewart, notorious American crook, today paid with his life for the murder of W. Marshall Jackson, Canadian deportation officer, of Winnipeg. He died on the scaffold in the Sandwich jail yard. Hogue shot down Jackson in the smoking compartment of a Canadian Pacific passenger train near Windsor, last January. He was in Jackson's custody, being brought to the border to be turned over to Michigan authorities to answer a charge of safe-blowing in Battle Creek, Mich. Jackson was killed with his own revolver which Hogue had extracted from the officers pocket. Following the shooting, the prisoner jumped from the speeding train and escaped. Four days later, weak from cold and hunger, he made his way to a Windsor hotel where he was captured.

Wheels of Canadian justice turned speedily. The prisoner was brought into court, tried, convicted and sentenced to die in a single day. Today's execution was the first in Essex county in 17 years.

WE ARE TRYING TO KEEP PRICES DOWN

Since this war commenced there has been a tremendous increase in prices, due partly to legitimate reasons, but mostly to an insane scramble everywhere to boost prices and get rich quick. Sooner or later the government will take a hand and compel a reduction of prices to normal conditions. Then the price booster will pay the penalty of his greed in the loss of customers. The people will go to the merchant who has done his best for them in keeping prices down as much as he could.

"The Balanced Meal And School Lunches"

Paper Read by Miss Kate Dennis, Domestic Science Teacher, at Close of "Child Welfare Week" Deals With Food Preparedness as Related to World War.

There perhaps has never been a time in history when the eyes of the whole world have been so centered on the question of food preparedness as it is today.

The efficiency of a nation is dependent upon the physical preparedness of her subjects, while the physical preparedness of the subject is dependent upon the kind of food consumed. Everywhere we are seeing concentrated effort directed toward the production of a greater food supply than our country has been able to produce in the past. America stands today as the "good Samaritan", with hands outstretched offering sustenance to our starving neighbor across the sea. May we not, as subjects of this glorious nation, show our patriotism at this trying time and adopt as our slogan today in Rushville, "Better meals, better children, better Rushville, and better America."

Tradition has predominately influenced our past. Because our mothers, grandmothers, and great-grandmothers practiced serving of certain foods at certain meals, we have followed those same practices. Suddenly we came to realization our modes of living differed from those of our ancestors, and we turned frantically to our food specialists for assistance, to learn that had we only studied Nature, we would find the human body that control all forms of life. The terms, nourishment, food, meals, are then synonymous in that they function as a means of sustaining life within the human body.

All meals, no matter how meager, insufficient or poorly balanced, should have some attention given to their planning for one or more reasons.

The first reason is to satisfy the hunger of the members of the family. This would be an easy task if all the members of the family were in good health, liked the same food, and were engaged in the same activities. Such conditions, however, are seldom found, instead we find prejudices against certain foods, and what one member is especially fond of, another may loathe. These prejudices, unless well founded, should be overcome. The plan should be such as to vary the diet and provide the unexpected. The same food day after day, or at regular intervals, becomes monotonous and unpalatable.

Cost is a factor which is constantly entering into the planning of meals. It involves not only the cost of the raw material, but the cost of the fuel used in cooking, and the time and labor spent in service. The present H. C. L. should receive greater consideration than most people give to it. We should know whether the increased cost is due to the consumption over-taking the production, or are we demanding as necessities of life, what were once considered luxuries. If some attention were directed toward those factors which fixed the market price of foods, and cheaper foods, equally as nutritious, substituted it would decrease the cost of living, materially.

There is a great need for economy and judicious buying, but we must distinguish between true and false economy. It is a great mistake to stint your table of nourishing foods and pay out the family income for medicine, rest cures and money spent elsewhere to satisfy the demands of hunger, or a craving for unwholesome foods.

Since the health, strength, and working capacity of everyone is dependent upon food, it is the most vital reason why our meals should be planned.

A diet must contain enough protein to build and repair the tissues of the body. During childhood and youth, the need for protein foods is greater than during maturity and old age, because the period of growth is more rapid, and the tissues wear out faster. Weak, stunted, and diseased bodies are more apt to be due to poorly balanced meals than to inherited weaknesses. Nature is too often blamed for imperfection, when a little knowledge of the body needs and the foods which supply them may have prevented weakness and deformity.

If you doubt this statement, observe the type of meals a man will order in a restaurant and compare it with the meal a woman usually orders. Which of the two shows the greater power of endurance? You will find that the meal ordered by a man includes such foods as contain protein, while the meal ordered by a woman is made up largely of sugar and starchy foods. The demand of the body for the minerals Fe, P, Ca needed in greater quantity by growing girls and women, and found in such foods, are too often omitted from the meals of the girls and women.

The diet must contain fat, starch, and sugar sufficient to maintain temperature for energy to carry on the vital processes, and for work and activity. It must contain bulk in the form of cellulose, sufficient to stimulate the intestines, so that the food will move fast enough to prevent putrefaction, and the indigestible food can be expelled from the body. Sufficient water is necessary to supply the tissues and the fluids of the body, and to aid in carrying off the waste products. It should contain enough mineral to supply the needs of the fluids and the tissues.

To summarize, we may say, that the meal must be so balanced that the amount of each food principle present will be adequate to properly nourish the body and to carry on its functions with ease. General health is improved by a good, wholesome, easily digested, and balanced daily ration.

Chief among the faults of many planned meals is the attempt to economize by the consumption of quantities of bake-shop food to the exclusion of such foods as are essential to proper nourishment. Meat, milk, and eggs are high priced but they are cheap when compared with the cost of medicine, medical attention, and loss of wages during sickness occasioned by underfeeding. The taste for nutritious food could be easily cultivated if the general effect of such a diet on health were known and followed.

No set standard can be given that would apply to all families, since the needs and activities of groups vary widely. The experiments of Attwater and Chittenden may serve as a guide.

The occupation of each member of the family, the sex, weight, age, and activities are the factors which influence the making of the family dietary; the amount of food being dependent upon them.

The value of the food in terms of its nourishment, is measured by the amount of heat it can furnish to the body; the unit of heat is called the calorie, therefore the standard of any individual dietary is based upon the number of calories needed by the individual.

Since many of us are not familiar with the scientific method of calculation, we are compelled to resort to certain signs and symptoms in the growing child, as our guide. If all mothers will make it their duty to see that the child eats such foods as furnish the best material for growth and energy at the proper time, it would aid materially in producing better standards of living and more healthy children. At the ages when growth seems most rapid the child should have plenty of such foods as milk and eggs, in order that the growth of tissue may be properly nourished. The languid, tired feeling evidenced in the spring of the year, warns us that the body is becoming depleted of its iron, and this need may be met by the feeding of green vegetables, particularly lettuce, kale, spinach, and greens of all kinds, rather than the regular iron tonic so often prescribed.

The common practice of indulging children in quantities of sweet foods is much to be deplored. The child who eats quantities of candy and cakes, drink sodas between meals, does not care for those less

Senreco
The double-service tooth paste,
keeps teeth clean AND GUMS HEALTHY.

Keeping the gums healthy and the mouth sweet is very important to health; more teeth are lost through the loosening of the tissue that holds the teeth in place than from decay.

Dental science to-day demands that a tooth paste must keep the gums healthy as well as clean the teeth.

Senreco was formulated to meet this requirement. Hundreds of dentists are prescribing and using Senreco because they have found that it does measure up to that standard.

SENRECO IS A WONDERFUL CLEANSER.

In addition to its remedial properties Senreco is a wonderful cleanser; acts directly on the mucin film, the basis of tartar; leaves the mouth cool and clean-feeling. As some one has expressed it—Senreco gives one a new idea on mouth cleanliness.

Get a tube to-day at your druggists or toilet counter—enjoy the healthy, cleanly feeling its use gives your mouth and gums. Notice how brilliantly white Senreco makes your teeth. It performs this two-fold service for you and yet costs no more than the ordinary, old-fashioned tooth paste that merely cleans the teeth and leaves a pleasant taste—25 cents for a large 3 ounce tube.

"THE BALANCED MEAL AND SCHOOL LUNCHES"

appetizing foods which make up his daily meals, and, as a rule, he leaves the table without having more than tasted the food set before him. The reason is this; the chief constituent of the group of sweet foods is sugar, which immediately appeals to the nerves of taste and soon satisfies the appetite of the child, and when he is called upon to partake of those foods which he should eat to make his body strong, his appetite has already been satisfied by the sweets, but they do not properly nourish him.

I do not wish to be misunderstood about the use of sugar as a food but I do want to emphasize the fact that the time to eat sweet food is not when the stomach is empty and crying for foods essential to its proper nourishment, but rather after the appetite has been satisfied by such wholesome foods as meat, vegetables, bread, milk, and eggs. These facts tend to show that the balancing of the meal is a vital factor in the production of health and human efficiency.

Since the adoption of a universal standard is an impossibility, I can only suggest a few simple rules upon which your standard may be based, and hope that you may find them helpful in establishing a standard that will assist in meeting the needs in your family group. A breakfast should consist of:—

1. Fruit in some form, preferably fresh.
2. Cereals, best from the whole of the grain, and cheapest if purchased unprepared for use.
3. Some protein dish, as eggs, fish, hash, or a small quantity of meat.

4. Some form of bread, as toast, bread, muffins, biscuits, griddle cakes, and rolls.

5. A hot drink, coffee or cocoa.

- A dinner should consist of:—
1. Meat, roast, stew, meat-loaf, or meat-pie.

2. Potatoes and one other vegetable, as peas, beans, or one of the green vegetables that require cooking. They may be served mashed, creamed, fried, scalloped, or baked. Bread.

3. Salad, when possible. Green vegetables with dressing. Heavy salads should not be served with a dinner but form the principal of lunch or supper.

4. Dessert.
5. Tea or coffee.

- Lunch or supper:—
1. A hot meat dish, as chops, meat pie; a cheese dish, as macaroni and cheese, cheese fondue, or rarebit; or cold meat, or a salad; or a cream soup.

2. Potatoes and bread.
3. Sauce and cake.
4. Tea, cocoa, or milk.

Aside from the daily meals, the question of the school lunch must not be overlooked. The lunch box may be made a source of pleasure to the school child or the worker. To make it so, the lunch must be varied on successive days. Many kinds of food or food in great quantities, are not good for a child that sits quietly all day or for people who live an inactive life. It is both possible and necessary, if the lunch is not to become monotonous, to have different foods for each day of the week. As in any meal, all the food stuffs should be represented in the foods of the luncheon box.

Since bread is the basis of nearly all lunch boxes, sandwiches form the most convenient way of carrying foods that should be eaten with bread, and because of their frequency, they should be varied. Different breads, as graham, Boston brown, and nut bread may be used. Muffins and rolls give variety to the form of bread used.

The filling for sandwiches offer many variations; meat, eggs, cheese, and vegetables combined with salad dressings, offer a food variety. Among the sweet foods which are particularly palatable to children and, at the same time, furnish a nutritious food are, dried fruits, bananas and nuts. Dried fruits, such as dates, figs and prunes make excellent food when combined with bread and butter and, at the same time, furnish the iron so essential in the diet of anemic children.

Relishes such as pickles, olives, and radishes, are desirable in the lunch box of a mature person.

Cake is a common constituent of the lunch box but for children only the plainer cakes, i. e., those containing little fat should be used. Plain cake, cookies, sponge cake, lady fingers, and ginger bread, if not too highly spiced, are permissible in the school lunch.

The packing of the school lunch should not be overlooked, as the appearance of the food is one great factor in arousing the appetite and aiding the digestion of the food.

In closing I want to tell you what the school is doing to teach the balancing of the diet and ask the mothers who have been interested in coming out today, to lend their assistance and encouragement when the children try to carry into the home the principles they have learned at school.

In preparation for this paper the following list of questions were submitted to seventeen freshmen girls and it is interesting to note the results.

1. Name the five foods you like best.
2. How often do you indulge yourself in the eating of such foods?
3. Do you eat three meals a day, regularly?
4. Are you hungry at meal time?
5. Do you eat between meals?
6. What do you eat?
7. Do you indulge in sweet drinks, such as sodas daily?
8. What kind of a drink do you usually order?
9. Do you eat a hearty meal after such indulgence?
10. What prompts the desire for such foods?
11. Do you have a good meal at home preceeding such indulgence?

The results of the questionnaire show:

1. The most popular foods were candy, sodas, cakes, pickles, olives, pastry, baked beans, salads, potatoes, cereals and peas. Very few of our most common wholesome foods were selected among the most likable foods.

2. The indulgence in strongly acid, and sweet foods varied from once a week to as often as the child desired to eat them.

3. About 50 per cent of the group ate three meals per day, the balance varying from sometimes one meal a day to two meals per day, taken at regular intervals.

- 4-5. A very small percent were hungry at meal time because they practiced eating between meals.

- 6-7-8. Candy, cakes, sodas and pickles were the most popular foods eaten between meals.

9. Only two girls ate a hearty meal after such indulgence.

10. The desire for such foods is prompted by a desire to be sociable, or as one girl expressed herself, "just to be doing something," and in not a single case by the demands of hunger.

11. All were well fed at their home table.

The facts revealed in the above tabulation show that a high percentage of children eat too much sweet and acid foods, and do not eat the foods which build the body tissues during growth. Irregularity of the habits of eating are bad for children in that they retard the natural desire for wholesome and health producing foods; that such desires are not prompted by the demands of hunger but are more of a sociable nature.

The public schools are attempting through the dietary study, offered in the Domestic Science courses, to lay the foundation principles for a more rational type of living and we ask the hearty support of all parents in this effort.

Serum Station....

The Swine Breeders Pure Serum Company of Thorntown, Indiana, has established a Serum Station at Rushville for the benefit of their stockholders and also the farmers of this part of the State who want to use a high class serum.

We sell direct to the farmer and guarantee him the best, pure, potent serum and virus that can be obtained anywhere. This serum is strictly throat bled serum, obtained by killing the hog outright and this is the only plant in the country using this method.

The company has arranged to keep serum on hands at Kramer's Cold Storage Plant, and anyone wanting serum can get it any time. We are prepared to answer calls for vaccination at all times and have an office with the Nipp Insurance Company over the Rushville National Bank.
